Creative Sounds is a free, inclusive music group delivered by SIPS Education and MAC Makes Music. It is an after-school opportunity for children, young people, and their families who are interested in learning to play new instruments, write songs, experiment with technology and make new friends.

Creative Sounds is open to young people of all abilities and with the aim to help support people with additional needs and disabilities with their musical ambitions.

There is no need for any previous experience, just a desire to get creative and have fun!
